Pashupatinath, Bouddhanath, Swayambhunath:

Pashupatinath: The holiest of holy Hindu temple in south Asia is the focal point of pilgrimage from all over the sub-continent. The holy river Bagmati flowing nearby is the cremation ground of the Hindus. Funeral pyres can be viewed from across the river.

Bouddhanath:

Probably the largest stupa in the world is also found in Kathmandu valley-the great stupa of Bouddhanath. Again, the omni-sighted eyes of the Buddha stare all the directions. This Stupa is the place of worship of Tibetan Buddhists predominantly Swayambhunath:

It is situated in the west of Kathmandu city on the top of the hill. The huge Stupa is one of the holiest Buddhist site in Nepal and is listed as a world heritage site,

Day 04–

Pokhara Full Day Sightseeing

Breakfast at Hotel

Proceed to Visit Gupteshwar Mahadev, Devi's Fall, Barahi Temple and Fewa Lake

Gupteshwar Mahadev: Gupteshwar Mahadev Cave lies in the southern end of the city, it is just 2 Km from Central Pokhara. The entrance is right across from Devi's fall and the cave is nearly about 3 km long. The cave has got both the narrow and wide spaces inside it. One can have an astonishing view of Devi s fall from inside the cave except in rainy seasons. The cave is provided with artificial lighting systems. The cave is also an important religious site for Hindus.

Devi's Fall: Locally known as Palate Change (Hell's fall), Devi s fall is one of the major tourist destinations in Pokhara. It is just 2 km away from Central Pokhara. It is an awesome waterfall, and you can't stop yourself saying WOW . Devi s fall plunges into a cave and disappears into the earth. In the monsoon, the sight is most spectacular. Legend has it that the name was put in the memory of a tourist named David who was swept down the waterfall. This fall is also known as Davy's fall, David's fall or Davis's fall, meaning the same waterfall.

Tal Barahi Temple, Phewa Lake Lying in the island of the middle of the Fewa Lake, the Barahi temple is the most important monument in Pokhara. This two-storied pagoda is dedicated to the boar manifestation of' Ajima, representative of the force of Goddess Durga. Barahi is pictured with the face of a boar with a cup in one hand and fish in the other. Devotees can be seen carrying male animals across the lake for sacrifice, especially on Saturdays. Set in stunning surroundings, many find Barahi Temple a peaceful place to relax as one can enjoy the green forest scenery just beyond the south end of the lake, full-scale scenery of the lake and amazing reflection of the Annapurna and Fishtail Mountains on the surface of the lake.

Phewa Lake: The second largest lake in the country covering an area of about 4.43 km² (1.7 sq mi) is the center of attraction for every person visiting Pokhara. It is the largest among the eight lakes lying in Pokhara. One can sail or row a hired boat across the lake or visit Barahi Temple situated on the island located in the lake. The lake is ideal for relaxation, boating and viewing the mountains as well. One can also fish in the lake but be sure that you are fishing at the right place. Reflection of Macchapuchre (Mount Fishtail) in the lake makes you feel more exciting. So, don't just read this, pack up your luggage and be there to exploit the natural beauty. The eastern shore of the lake, popularly known as lakeside or Baidam, is the favorite home base for travelers and consists of endless strip of lodges, restaurants, bookshops, souvenir shops after sightseeing back to hotel
